

Congratulations to Snap Fitness on Helping Change City Ordinance to Bring New Health Clubs to St. Paul

10-9-08

Yesterday, the St. Paul City Council voted unanimously to change an existing city ordinance that will allow 24-hour fitness clubs – such as Goff & Howard’s client, Snap Fitness – to operate in the city (Pioneer Press). Congratulations to Ben Cowan, owner of several Snap Fitness franchise locations in the Twin Cities, for helping change this city ordinance that will bring new businesses to St. Paul.

When Ben wanted to open new Snap Fitness clubs in St. Paul, he turned to Goff & Howard to help him navigate the complex city government process; develop a strategic plan for encouraging the city to change the ordinance; and work with the city council, mayor’s office, and other community leaders to make it happen.

Goff & Howard is proud to have helped Ben and Snap Fitness reach this significant milestone. We look forward to welcoming Snap Fitness clubs to the St. Paul community.
